

Union Playing Cards.

The spirit of nationality which has fired the American heart over since Burnside sought the overthrow of our country's prosperity has been productive of many changes—many new inventions.—The Union Cards have already revolutionized the Card Trade, and still the word is only commenced. So great has been the demand for these Cards that the Company has scarcely been able to supply one grade, without attempting the manufacture of other qualities. By the increased facilities which have been added through great expense, they are now prepared to fill orders on the day received, and thorough co-operation of all who love the Eagle, Shields, Stars and Flag of the Union, respectively invited.

Of how much more significance are our National Emblems than the homely, meaningless characters used to designate the suits in the old-style of Cards? Kings, Queens and Jacks are played out! Clubs and Spades no more!

Cards remove Kings—the Goddess of Liberty, corns Queens, and the Major is high to any Jack in Thirston. In order to secure your interest in the general circulation of the Union Cards, the following prices have been established, at which you will be supplied:

2 packs sent by mail, postpaid, for $1.00
12 packs sent by mail, postpaid, for $4.00

SUPERINTENDENCY OF FREEDMEN. OFFICE SUPERINTENDENT FREDERICK, EAST AND MIDDLE TENNESSEE, Nashville, Feb. 1, 1863.

CHICAGO NO. 1.

The undersigned, by order of the Secretary of War, and at the request of the Military Governor of the State, assumes the superintendence of the Freedmen of East and Middle Tennessee. For the present, all officers and agents in charge of Contraband Camps in the District mentioned will retain their positions, and will report to him at once their stations, the number of persons under his command, and their condition and prospects. The loyal people of the State will immediately be informed, by Constitutional amendment and otherwise if necessary, the abolition of slavery in Tennessee; when this has been done, the new relations between the white and black citizens of the State will be adjusted and harmonized by the civil government, and by the natural action of social laws.

The military's provision has announced looks to this end. It will be its purpose to co-operate with all classes to make this change by encouraging the freedmen to rely upon themselves to acquire education and to practice morality and industry.

The principles laid down, in (A) the letter of Adjutant General Thomas, will be carried out by such regulations as may from time to time be found necessary.

R. B. MUSSEY, C. & M.

Supt. Freedmen in East and Middle Tennessee.

[A] Letter from Adjutant General Thomas.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Jan. 16, 1863.

General.—The following are the views upon which I have acted, and which I desire to see carried out in the State of Tennessee, in relation to the colored people's rights in the army: we have done a large sum for them, and we must now do more to extend and maintain the active labor of the State, and it is therefore essential that all others of this race be kept in the State. No paper should therefore be given to them beyond its limits.

Very many have left their former homes and come to this city, or in default of finding employment, have gone to contraband camps.

It is not desirable to receive them, either here or in the camps, especially in the city, where huddled together in miserable huts, and inadequately provided for, they contract disease, and death, in many cases, is the consequence. They should be allowed to go to their former主人, or seek employment elsewhere, in the vicinity, where they will be well-treated, and receive fair compensation for their labor. Papers should, therefore, be granted in all cases to blacks desiring to leave the city to seek employment.

At the contraband camps the blacks will be hired on par terms to those desiring them, provided the commanders thereof are satisfied that they will receive proper treatment, and that they have according to contract.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

[Signed] L. THOMAS, Adjutant General.
